Service Providers

- 3.6 If and only to the extent that the Distributor uses Service Providers to provide IT and technical services to the Distributor, the Distributor shall be entitled to sub-license such Service Providers to access and use Data but only in so far as is necessary to enable the Distributor to access and use the Data for the Distributor Authorised Usage and provided always that the Distributor:

- 3.6.4 Without prejudice to the foregoing, the Distributor shall ensure that each and every similarly situated Service Provider is subject to contractual obligations no less onerous than those to which the Customer is subject under this Agreement.

Affiliates

- 3.7 Subject to Clauses 3.8 to 3.10, the permissions granted to the Distributor pursuant to the Licence in respect of any Data shall extend to the Affiliates of the Distributor (if any). Notwithstanding the foregoing and to the extent that the Distributor cannot bring claims, actions or proceedings against Aquis under the Applicable Law, a Distributor Affiliate may bring such claims, actions and proceedings against Aquis.

Liability for Individual Users, Companies and Service Providers

- 3.11 The Distributor shall not be liable for losses incurred by Aquis as a result of Customers' unauthorised reception, use and/or transmission of Data if the Distributor has made commercially reasonable efforts to prevent or uncover such unauthorised reception, use and/or transmission. For the purposes of this Agreement, "commercially reasonable efforts" shall mean the following: (i) The Distributor shall notify Aquis of any unauthorised reception or retransmission of the Data of which it is aware and shall provide reasonable assistance to Aquis in addressing any such unauthorised reception or retransmission of the Data with the Customer; (ii) Upon reasonable notice from Aquis, the Distributor shall assist the persons designated by Aquis with performing an inspection of Customer's locations as permitted by a Customer agreement; and (iii) The Distributor shall assess and, on behalf of Aquis, collect from Customer any fees and interest reasonably determined by Aquis to be due from Customer (consistent with such Customer's Customer agreement) on account of Customer's unauthorised reception or retransmission of the Data.
- 3.12 Without prejudice to Clauses 3.16 and 4.13, Aquis agrees that, provided the Distributor has obtained Aquis' prior approval before the Distributor Distributes the Data to a redistributor, the Distributor has no further liability or responsibility for such redistributor's use or redistribution of the Data. For the avoidance of doubt, the redistributor will have all liability, reporting, payment and administrative obligations (including administering and enforcing end users agreements and providing access to Aquis for audit purposes) in connection with such redistributor's use and distribution of Data.

Responsibility for Distribution

- 3.13 The Distributor shall not, and shall procure that its Affiliates do not, supply any Data to a party on the Prohibited List without prior written permission from Aquis.

- 3.14 Once Data has been provided to the Distributor, Aquis shall have no further obligation with regard to its onward delivery to Customers, or for any technical support that Customers may require in respect of such delivery or the use of Data. The Distributor shall use the Data only as permitted under this Agreement.
- 3.15 For the avoidance of doubt, a Customer that internally distributes Data to internal users and/or internal users of such Customers' Affiliates shall not be considered Distribution of the Data under this Agreement and such Customer shall not be considered as a redistributor under this Agreement.
- 3.16 The Distributor shall notify Aquis promptly if the Distributor becomes aware that Data is being distributed or accessed in breach of the terms of this Agreement.
- 3.17 Aquis shall bear no responsibility to train Customers in connection with the Distributor's Distribution of the Data.
- 3.18 The Distributor acknowledges that receipt of MaC Data requires the Distributor to enter into an applicable agreement with relevant Market of Listing.
- 3.19 The Distributor shall report to Aquis by the 15th day of each month (i) the number of Interactive Accesses that are authorised to access and display the MaC Data via the Distributor as of the 1st day of the month.

- 3.21 The Distributor shall not alter the Data to make it misleading and shall not use the Data or any part of it for any illegal purpose or in violation of the applicable laws in the jurisdictions in which the Distributor operates.

4. PAYMENT

- 4.1 The Distributor agrees to pay the Fees shown in the Fee Schedule, if any, for the rights chosen in the Distributor Order Form. Fixed licence Fees shall be payable monthly in advance and for the period from the relevant Commencement Date until the first day of the following month will be payable on a pro rata basis. All Fees are payable by the Distributor within thirty days from the Distributor's receipt of Aquis' invoice. Aquis may add interest on overdue payments at a rate equal to the HSBC Plc annual base rate (from time to time) plus two per cent, capped at an annual rate of 12%, calculated on a daily basis.
- 4.2 If Aquis fails to provide the Data, in whole or in part, the Fees shall be reduced pro rata for each trading day that such failure continues.
- 4.3 Aquis may, at its option, by the provision of written notice require the Distributor to terminate or suspend (at Aquis' option) Customers' access to the Real-Time Data or any part of it and the Distributor shall comply with Aquis' written notice within thirty days of receipt of notice to that effect. Aquis will act reasonably and treat all similarly situated distributors and their customers in a non-discriminatory manner under this and other provisions of this Agreement.
- 4.4 All Fees are payable by the Distributor in full without deduction, withholding, set-off or counterclaim for any reason whatsoever, whether arising in contract, tort (including negligence), breach of statutory duty or otherwise, save as may be required by Applicable Laws.
- 4.5 If the accuracy of any invoice is contested, payment of the amount not in dispute shall be made pending reconciliation of the reported discrepancy.

Any request by the Distributor for payment of overpaid Fees based on an inaccurate Distributor report must be made within twelve (12) months of the end of the month to which the Distributor report relates. The Distributor shall not be entitled to repayment of any such overpaid Fees requested after this period.

- 4.6 The Distributor will provide Aquis with a report in a mutually agreed format within 30 days of the end of each quarter detailing the Usage of Data by Customers receiving Data from the Distributor, and the Fees which are payable.
- 4.7 Aquis shall not impose or charge any Fee during the Initial Term. After the Initial Term, Aquis may increase or introduce Fees at any time for any one or more of the Services by the provision of at least ninety (90) days' written notice to the Distributor.
- 4.8 If Aquis implements or charges any per Interactive Access Fees for receipt of the Real-Time Data, (a) where an Interactive Access receives access to the Data via two (2) or more of the Distributor's methods or services, for fee and reporting purposes (assuming such access triggers reporting or payment obligations), such access to the Data shall be counted as though it was received from one service of the Distributor, and (b) no Fees shall be payable and the Distributor shall not have any reporting obligations in respect of any remote/portable/mobile device authorised to access Real-time Data through a corresponding subscription, provided that the access to Real-time

Data via such remote/portable/mobile device and the corresponding subscription service cannot take place simultaneously

- 4.9 If Aquis implements or charges any Fees for receipt of the Real-time Data, the Distributor will bill directly those of its Customers receiving the Real-time Data. Customers shall pay no Fees directly to Aquis for the Data.
- 4.10 If Aquis implements or charges any per Interactive Access Fees for receipt of the Real-Time Data, in order to satisfy the Distributor's reporting and payment obligations under this Agreement, the Distributor shall have the right to report to Aquis by the 15th day of each month (i) the number of Interactive Accesses that are authorised to access and display the Real-Time Data via the Distributor's services (other than the Distributor's websites, the Distributor's news services and other services where Customers submit periodic reports to the Distributor) as of the 1st day of the month and (ii) for Real-Time Data and/or any other services where Customers submit periodic reports to the Distributor, the number of Interactive Accesses reported by Customers in their periodic reports submitted to the Distributor. On the basis of such reports, Aquis shall invoice the Distributor for the Fees on a monthly basis. The Distributor shall pay the Fees directly to Aquis monthly within thirty (30) days of receipt of an invoice therefor.
- 4.11 If Aquis implements or charges any per Interactive Access Fees for receipt of the Real-Time Data, the Distributor shall be entitled to rely on honesty statements or reports provided by Customers (the "Reports") for the purposes of satisfying all of the Distributor's reporting and payment obligations under this Agreement in respect of the number of Interactive Accesses receiving Real-Time Data and, unless the Distributor has proof of inaccuracy or omission at the time the Distributor submits its reports to Aquis, the Distributor shall not be responsible to Aquis for submitting a report to Aquis or for any underpayments (including any interest thereon) related to such inaccurate report based on such Reports that is subsequently determined to be inaccurate or incomplete.
- 4.12 If Aquis implements or charges any per Interactive Access Fees for receipt of the Real-Time Data, Customers receiving Real-Time Data shall have the right to report to the Distributor in their Reports each individual end user within their organisation who has access to Real-Time Data through the applicable service mechanism..
- 4.13 Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this Agreement, (a) the Distributor shall not have any reporting or payment obligations in respect of (i) the distribution by the Distributor of Delayed Data and Derived Works, (ii) Data used by the Distributor's prospective users for a period of not longer than thirty (30) calendar days (or such longer period as agreed upon by Aquis and the Distributor) as a part of the Distributor's free trial program, (iii) Data used by the Distributor for its internal purposes, including, without limitation, quality control, monitoring, testing, development, demonstration, marketing, customer service, creation and updating of corporate events or other descriptive databases, or reference to the Data and reporting on the Data as part of its print, broadcasting, and multimedia newsgathering operations, (iv) Data used by existing Customers for a limited period of time during seminars or conferences in which such Customers participate and (v) Data used by third parties for development purposes; and (b) Customers may redistribute a limited amount of the Data to third parties in order to support the primary business of such Customer, and such redistribution shall not be considered Distribution under this Agreement (such Customers shall not be considered as redistributors under this Agreement), and shall not trigger any reporting obligation or additional Fees.
- 4.14 Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this Agreement, (a) if a Customer has a relationship with Aquis addressing such Customer's access to and/or use of Data, the Customer shall be entitled to report and pay Aquis in accordance with such relationship and (b) the Distributor shall have no liability or responsibility with respect to such Customer's access to and/or use of Data except that the Distributor shall, for Customers that do not submit reports or remit payments directly to Aquis, (i) report to Aquis the number of such Customer's Interactive Accesses receiving Real-Time Data based on honesty statements or reports received from such Customer and (ii) forward such Customer's payments of Fees received by the Distributor to Aquis.
- 4.15 Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this Agreement, in the event that a Customer is subject to any receivership, insolvency, bankruptcy or similar proceeding, the Distributor shall be obliged to pay the Fees for such Customer's access to and/or use of Data only to the extent that the Distributor recovers such Fees from the Customer. In the event that the Distributor recovers any such Fees from the Customer, the Distributor shall promptly forward such Fees to Aquis.

The Parties anticipate that the majority of the Services will not be subject to the imposition of taxes. However, to the extent that the Services are subject to any taxes, the Distributor shall assume full and complete responsibility for the payment of such taxes on any Fees. All Fees are quoted exclusive of taxes which may be payable thereon. Such taxes will be added to Aquis' invoices, as appropriate, at the base rate prescribed by legislation. If the Distributor is required under Applicable Laws to deduct or withhold any such tax, charge or assessment from the Fees, then such amount shall be increased so that the net amount actually received by Aquis after the deduction or withholding of such tax, charge or assessment, will equal one hundred per cent (100%) of the Fees. For the avoidance of doubt, in no event shall the Distributor be responsible for any taxes, duties, levies, and other similar charges based on or related to Aquis' production costs, revenues, profits or net income.

The Distributor shall:
- 5.4.1 notify Aquis in writing of the IPR Claim promptly on becoming aware of it (provided, however, that the failure to so notify shall not relieve Aquis of its indemnification obligations unless Aquis is materially prejudiced by such delay and then only to the extent of such prejudice);
- 5.4.2 grant sole control of the defence of the IPR Claim to Aquis (provided, however, that Aquis shall not admit or acknowledge any fault or liability or settle any IPR Claim in a manner that would place any payment or other obligation on the Distributor without the Distributor's prior written consent, which consent shall not be unreasonably withheld, conditioned or delayed; and provided further, however, that the Distributor may at all times, with counsel of its choice and at its expense, monitor and participate in such defence and all related settlement negotiations); and
